

Contact:

Author: Marjorie Hudson, 919-542-5029

Publisher: Kevin Watson, 336-414-5599

PO Box 30314 Winston-Salem, NC 27130-0314

Accidental Birds of the Carolinas
by Marjorie Hudson

Publisher: Press 53

ISBN: 978-1-935-70830-8

Paperback: 9 x 6, 216 pages

Price: $17.95

Author Blog: www.kitchentablewriters.wordpress.com

Author website: www.marjoriehudson.com

Tour dates

Pittsboro, NC – Saturday, May 14, 11 am – MCINTYRE'S BOOKS – Book Launch Reading - - Ferrington Barn

Chapel Hill, NC - Monday, June 6, 7 pm – FLYLEAF BOOKS Reading

Wilmington, NC - Friday, June 10, 7 pm – POMEGRANATE BOOKS Reading

Charlotte, NC - Thursday, June 16, 6:30 pm - PARK ROAD BOOKS Reading

Raleigh, NC - Sunday, June 26, 3 pm – QUAIL RIDGE BOOKS Reading

Manteo, NC – Wednesday, August 17, 2 pm – MANTEO BOOKSELLERS book signing

Manteo, NC – Thursday, August 18, 10 – 12:30 pm – ELIZABETHAN GARDENS book signing

Duck, NC – Friday, August 19, 10:30 – 1:30 pm – ISLAND BOOKSTORE AT SCARBOROUGH FAIRE book signing

Elizabeth City, NC – Saturday, August 20, 11-3 pm – PAGE AFTER PAGE BOOKSTORE, book signing and discussion

Marjorie Hudson's writing has won many honors, including a Fiction Syndicate Prize, two Pushcart Special Mentions, and a Blumenthal Award. The stories in her new collection Accidental Birds of the Carolinas (Press 53, 2011) (“like novels in nutshells, Alice Munro style” — Doris Betts) explore the themes of love, loss, and connection among natives and newcomers in the South. Born in rural Illinois, Hudson grew up in Washington, D.C., and now lives in North Carolina. Her previous book, Searching for Virginia Dare (Press 53, 2007) (“fascinating as a detective story, beautifully written” — Lee Smith) is an intertwined tale of obsession, loss, and hope that explores the fate of America's first English child, born on an island wilderness off the coast of North Carolina.